

Chapter 9

List of Preparers/Reviewers

9.0 LIST OF PREPARERS/REVIEWERS

Nebraska Department of Roads

Art Yonkey, P.E., Project Development Engineer
Leonard Sand, Environmental Analysis Supervisor
Mark Ottemann, P.E., Noise/Air Studies Engineer
Cindy Veys, Environmental Section Manager

Federal Highway Administration

Edward Kosola, Realty Officer
Stephen Burnham, Planning Engineer
Matt Redington, Transportation Engineer
John Snowdon, Transportation Engineer

This Draft Environmental Impact Statement was prepared by a number of professionals comprising the Antelope Valley Study Team, including:

Lonnie I. Anderson, E.I.T.: Assistant Engineer. B.S. Civil Engineering (1993), University of Nebraska - Lincoln. Study involvement: Floodplain section and mapping.

Karen V. Baker: Lead Planner, M.S. Transportation Planning (1995), New Jersey Institute of Technology and B.A. Economics and Urban Studies (1988), Northwestern University. Study involvement: Planning Coordinator, Purpose and Need chapter, Alternatives chapter, Environmental Justice section, Transportation Impacts chapter.

C.G. (Balu) Balachandrian, Ph.D.: Acoustics, Madras University (1956), Master of Physics, Annamalai University (1952), B.S. Physics, Madras University (1950). Study involvement: Vibration section and technical appendix.

Peter Bleed, Ph.D.: UNL Professor of Anthropology, Ph.D. Anthropology (1973), University of Wisconsin, M.A. (1968) and B.A. Anthropology (1965), Minnesota. Study involvement: Cultural resources management.

Gary L. Bredehoft: Design Associate, B.S. Architectural Studies (1987), University of Nebraska-Lincoln, A.D. Drafting/Design (1977), Platte Community College. Study involvement: Bicycle and Pedestrian Accommodations section.

John K. Denlinger, P.E.: Associate Engineer. B.S. Civil Engineering (1990), Lehigh University. Study involvement: Floodplains and Water Quality sections and air quality modeling.

Stacy Heen: Planner. M.C.P. (1996) and B.S. Art and Design (1995), Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Study involvement: Community revitalization concept development; consensus-building activities; Affected Communities, Land Use, Economic, and Acquisition and Relocation sections; mapping.

Richard D. Herrick, P.E.: Transportation Team Manager, Roadway Design Engineer, B.S. Civil Engineering (1984), University of Missouri-Kansas City. Study involvement: Assistant Project Manager, Roadway geometric design, Transportation Impacts, Document review.

Kenneth D. Imig, CPG: Study Scientist, B.A. Geology (1982), University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Study involvement: Hazardous Waste section.

William H. Imig: Environmental Scientist. B.S. Environmental Management (1977), Kearney State College. Study involvement: Air Quality section and technical appendix, Hazardous Waste technical appendix, and environmental risk sites.

Jeffrey S. Johnson, Ph.D., CPG: Senior Scientist, Ph.D. Geology (1991) and M.S. Geology (1986), University of Nebraska-Lincoln, B.S. Geology/Geophysics (1983), University of Wyoming. Study involvement: OES Study Coordinator and Hazardous Waste; Farmland; Physiography, Topography, Geology and Soils; Threatened and Endangered Species; Wild and Scenic Rivers, Coastal Barriers and Coastal Zone Management sections.

Jack C. Lynch, ASLA: Team Leader-Land Planning, B.L.A. Landscape Architecture (1967), Michigan State University. Study involvement: Community Revitalization.

Michael S. Malone, P.E.: Senior Transportation Engineer. B.S. Civil Engineering (1986) and M.S. Civil Engineering, emphasis in traffic engineering (1988), University of Nebraska - Lincoln. Study involvement: Traffic engineering, transportation planning, and Transportation Impacts chapter.

Mark J. Miller, AICP: Senior Planner. M.S. Community and Regional Planning (1974), University of Texas at Austin and B.S. Sociology (1970), St. Norbert College. Study involvement: Land Use and Socioeconomic sections, and QA/QC Reviewer.

Stanley Parks: UNL Research Archeologist. M.A. Anthropology (1992), B.S.Ed Secondary Education, Anthropology, History (1989), University of Lincoln-Nebraska. Study involvement: Cultural resources management.

Benjamin Perez, AICP: Lead Planner. M.S. Urban Planning (1988) Columbia University, B.A. European Studies (1985) Amherst College. MIS alternatives analyses, Community revitalization development, Capital cost estimates; and Energy, Visual Impacts, and Construction Impacts sections.

Daryoush Razavian, P.E., P.H.: Senior Engineer. M.S. Water Resources Engineering (1981) and B.S. Civil Engineering (1979), University of Nebraska - Lincoln. Study Involvement: Floodplain section and hydrology/hydraulics issues.

Karen L. Sands, AICP: Senior Planner. M.R.P. Regional Planning (1989) and B.A. Geography (1986), State University of New York at Albany. Study Involvement: overall Antelope Valley EIS Coordinator, DEIS Summary, Noise and misc. sections, and Public Participation and Agency Coordination chapter.

Stacy Stupka-Burda: UNL Research Archeologist. M.A. Anthropology (1995), B.A. Anthropology (1991), University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Study involvement: Cultural resources management.

Theodore von Briesen: Senior Project Manager. A.B. Government (1965), Harvard University. Study involvement: Study Manager, Financial Analysis and Evaluation chapter.

Jonathan E. Yost, P.E.: Water Resources Engineer. M.S. Water Resources Engineering (1994) and B.S. Civil Engineering (1990) University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Study involvement: Wetland/water resources impacts and mitigation.

Amy Zlotzky: Senior Scientist. M.S. Plant Ecology (1981), University of Connecticut and A.B. Botany (1979), Duke University. Study involvement: Wetlands, Water Quality, Water Body Modification and Wildlife, and Cultural Resources sections & Section 4(f) Statement.