Dear Tribal Leaders,

The Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) invites you to participate in one of two webinars to provide you an update of the Tribal Technical Assistance Program (TTAP). The webinars are on December 6 and 7, 2017.

FHWA is embarking on a two-year pilot of the new delivery model which builds on the experiences of the existing program and underscores the Department's priorities of improving program delivery, accountability, and stewardship. The pilot will centralize coordination of training and technical assistance requests and deploy subject matter experts across the country with expertise in asset and data management, planning and program management, project delivery, safety, operations & maintenance.

These webinars will be recorded and made available (complete replay with presentation slides) on the Center for Local Aid Support website following the webinars should you be unable to attend on either of the two dates below. To participate, please connect using the following information:
