

This map illustrates the geographical layout of Vero Beach, Florida, and its surrounding infrastructure. The city's jurisdiction is outlined by a red boundary. Major transportation routes are clearly marked: Interstate 95 (I-95) runs vertically along the western side of the city, while US Highway 60 runs horizontally through the center. Other roads shown include US Highway 512 to the west, and US Highways 614, 713, and 615 to the south. Two airports are identified: Vero Beach Municipal Airport, located within the city limits near Highway 60, and St. Lucie International Airport, situated to the south of the city. The map also depicts the city's proximity to the Atlantic Ocean to the east and the Indian River Lagoon to the south. Landmarks such as Sebastian Inlet and Fellsmere are labeled to provide regional context.
